POLKA

MATERIAL: MOUTH-BLOWN GLASS

Polka celebrates craftsmanship and the beauty of glass in motion. Each vase is mouth blown from recycled glass and carefully shaped by skilled hands, creating the collection's signature soft bubbles within the surface.

These subtle details are the result of precision and experience, giving every piece its own character. Designed to support and elevate floral arrangements, each vase also stands beautifully on its own.

As every object is handmade, no two are exactly alike. Small variations and imperfections are part of the process, making each piece uniquely authentic.

CORDOBA

MATERIAL: MOUTH-BLOWN CRYSTAL (CLEAR) AND MOUTH-BLOWN GLASS (AMBER/GREY)

Designed in the 1960s by Belgian artist Zéphir Busine, the Cordoba glassware reflects a modernist vision rooted in clarity and function. Mouth-blown Crystal glass for everyday use, each piece balances industrial intent with artisanal refinement. This re-edition, developed in close collaboration with Busine's grandson Sylvain Busine and XLBoom, respectfully brings the original design back to life.

GUSTO

The Gusto Collection by Alain Gilles for XLBoom is inspired by a visual metaphor of melting ice, where a mouth blown glass cup seems to rest on a slowly dissolving base formed from molten glass.

The contrast between the crisp, refined container and the raw, imperfect base creates a subtle tension within the design. Shaped by hand and fused into one solid piece, the base gives each cup a changing silhouette from every angle. This interplay of techniques highlights the beauty of glass and ensures that no two pieces are exactly alike.

As each piece is handmade and unique, slight variations in dimensions may occur.
